Library Week Scheduled

A week-long slate of special activities, including a book sale, luncheon and "no fines" week, will highlight National Library Week in Plano Sunday through Saturday, April 17-23.

The Gladys Harrington Public Library, 1501 18th St., will join libraries across the U.S. in celebrating the special week. During this period, patrons may return overdue books without suffering a penalty.

In a proclamation declaring the week of April 17-23 Library Week in

Special Activities Set At Plano Public Library

Texas, Gov. Dolph Briscoe called upon Texans to visit the public, school and academic libraries that serve them.

"The increasing complexity of the world in which we live makes adequate information vital for all Texans," noted the governor in his proclamation. "Libraries can provide this information."

Featured during the week in Plano will be the Friends of the Plano Public Library Book Sale which will begin tomorrow.

Special children's story times will be held at 10:30 a.m. Monday and Wednesday along with a children's program at 10 a.m. Tuesday sponsored by Alpha Omicron Sigma sorority and featuring Happy the Clown.

At 10 a.m. Wednesday, a National Library Week coffee will be held honoring Mrs. Eileen Walsh and Mrs. Cicely Lehrfeld and her family as the Library Family of the Year.

Mayor Norman Whitsitt and members of the Plano City Council will be honored by the Friends of the Plano Public Library with a luncheon at noon Thursday.

The week will culminate on Saturday with a showing of the cartoon movie "The Cricket in Times Square," along with other movies at 2 p.m. Music will be provided throughout the week by members of the Plano Piano Teachers Assn.

Plano librarian Maribelle Davis, a member of the Texas Library Assn. and one of the coordinators of Library Week in Texas, has invited all the citizens of Plano to join in some or all of the week's activities.

Busily preparing for National Library Week in Plano is librarian Carol Dally. A number of special activities have been planned for the week of Apr. 17-23. The Friends of the Plano Public Library are sponsoring a book sale at the library which will begin tomorrow, and a luncheon, special story times for children, coffee and films are also planned. Gov. Dolph Briscoe has appealed to citizens across the state asking them to take special note of libraries during the week. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Realtors Slate Poster Contest

A student poster contest is one of the highlights of National Private Property Week, which is being observed next week by the Collin County Board of Realtors.

Judges will be seeking posters displaying the most original art on the concept of Private Property Week, and the two categories are divided between sixth through eighth graders and ninth and tenth graders.

Two $50 savings bonds and four $25 savings bonds will be awarded to the top three finishers in each age category, and judges will include John Lopez of Ebby Halliday Realtors, Rex Black of Paula Stringer Realtors, Sara Cole of Shirley Becker Realtors, Nancy Hinckle of Charles Bryan Realtors and Sue Brown of McKee Realtors.

The contest is open to all school students in Collin County school districts and all posters must be turned in to the Realtors Board office at 1347 E. 19th St. before 5 p.m. Wednesday, April 20. Judging will take place that evening and winners will be notified later.

An agent sign contest also will be conducted, with all Realtor associates competing to see who can create the most original sign. Associates will be placing their signs in their own yards and judges will drive by and look at them.

Top prize in this contest is $50.

Additional information about the contests can be obtained by contacting executive officer Ann Kubicek at 423-3612.

Carter Calls For Voluntary Actions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rejecting "coercive or self-defeating controls," President Carter today called on government, business and labor to join in the battle against inflation by voluntary restraints.

"There are no magic solutions in the battle against inflation," Carter said in a nationally televised news conference called to announce his anti-inflation package to the American people.

"It can be won only by hard, day-to-day, unglamorous and often politically unpopular efforts, and by the voluntary cooperation and restraint of the American people," he said.

Furthermore, Carter said "high unemployment is a morally unacceptable — and ineffective — way of combating inflation and I totally reject that approach. Inflation must not be attacked by causing additional human misery."

The anti-inflation package calls for voluntary wage and price constraints by labor and industry, a government crackdown on price fixing and monopolies and a reduction of federal regulation that contributes to inefficient business operations that are ultimately costly to consumers.

It also provides for reform of rate setting regulations to encourage competition within regulated industries, including airlines; international agreements to make commodities available at lower prices and no protective action by the U.S. government to restrain cheaper imports.

The average rate of inflation has been about 6 per cent. Carter said today the administration would "reasonably aim at reducing the rate of inflation by two percentage points by the end of 1979."

The inflation fighting package was the President's second major economic announcement in two days.

Carter dropped his controversial $50 per person tax rebate Thursday on grounds that it would be inflationary.

Finance Bill Halted

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Plans for quick House approval of a comprehensive $708 million school finance bill have been scrambled by a parliamentary ruling, sending two House committees into emergency weekend sessions in an effort to resume debate on the plan by Monday.

Speaker Bill Clayton, who ruled there were provisions in the bill not included in Gov. Dolph Briscoe's message declaring school finance an emergency issue, said the lawmaker who objected to House action on the bill after three days of debate was being "horsey."

Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, raised the parliamentary objection which abruptly stopped debate on the bill Thursday and forced its return to committee.

"I just wanted to slow down passage of the bill," Bryant said. "Now we will have three or four more days to dramatize the inequities in the bill."

Clayton had blocked consideration of a proposed $865 million teacher pay raise amendment a day earlier on the same parliamentary grounds.

"Everybody knew when we sustained the point of order on the pay raise amendment that this point could be raised," he said.

"If they wanted to complete the education bill they could, or if they wanted to be horsey they could, and that's what they chose to do. We didn't know when, but we anticipated somebody would call the point of order."

The House Education Committee immediately went to work to rewrite the school finance bill, deleting provisions not included in Briscoe's message declaring the issue an emergency. Those provisions will be sent to the House in the form of separate bills, Clayton said.

Briefs

George, Evans Wed

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — CBS-TV sportscaster Phyllis George, Miss America of 1971, married movie producer Robert Evans Thursday in a ceremony attended by a few friends beneath a sycamore tree in the courtyard of Evans' estate.

It was the first marriage for Miss George, 27, and the fourth for Evans, 46, who once was married to actress Ali McGraw. Evans, a former actor and clothes manufacturer, headed Paramount Studios until he became an independent producer.

The couple left immediately after Thursday's ceremony for an Acapulco honeymoon.

Sense Of Outrage

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former New York Times foreign correspondent Gloria Emerson will join the editorial staff of Rolling Stone Magazine in May, Jann Wenner the publication's Editor announced today.

He said she will serve as Associate Editor responsible for the bi-weekly's News and Opinion section.

"Ms. Emerson," Wenner said, "has just the perfect sense of outrage which we want to bring to Rolling Stone's political coverage."

Jury Chosen

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A jury of six men and six women was chosen Thursday, ending 12 days of selection in the second murder trial of Manson disciple Leslie Van Houten.

The trial will begin Monday. Miss Van Houten originally was convicted, at her 1969 trial with Charles Manson and two other female followers, of taking part in the stabbing murders of Leno and Rosemary LaBianca two nights after actress Sharon Tate and four friends were slain.

Saved from the gas chamber by abolition of capital punishment, she was serving a life sentence when a new trial was ordered because her defense attorney vanished during the trial. The attorney later was found dead in the mountains.

Clean-Up Plano Day Planned Next Week

Clean-Up Plano Day, sponsored each year by the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, has been scheduled for Saturday, Apr. 23.

Local Boy and Girl Scout troops will be gathering trash throughout Plano. However, all interested citizens are encouraged to participate in the clean-up event.

The City of Plano will provide trash bags to be picked up between 9 a.m. and noon Saturday morning at any of the following locations: Haggard Middle School, Hughston Elementary School, Christie Elementary School, Harrington Park, the Plano YMCA, Jackson Elementary School, Forman Elementary School, Willow Creek Park or Haggard Park.

For each trash bag returned full to the pick-up stations, a coupon for a free hamburger at a local restaurant will be given.

Members of C.B. radio clubs in Plano will drive around the city gathering filled trash bags and awarding hamburger coupons. City sanitation trucks will pick up all trash at the pick-up stations.

Newspapers and aluminum cans should be delivered to Harrington Park.

Scenes like this will hopefully be eliminated with Clean Up Plano Day scheduled for Apr. 23 and sponsored by the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce. Rubbish and tin cans are scattered all over this creek area at Rustic Park and the same situation can be viewed at many of the other parks in Plano. All citizens interested in participating in the Clean Up Plano project can pick up trash bags at a number of locations between 9 a.m. and noon next Saturday. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Elect Jack Harvard City Council why?

Because —

—Zoning changes should be for the homeowner-not private interests.

—Prompt decisive action is needed for Plano's growing traffic congestion. Jack Harvard doesn't feel that recent improvements have been "premature" as his opponent has stated.

—Jack Harvard is for equal geographical representation. Can anyone from Plano condone three council members living practically next door to each other. (If his opponent is elected there will be three council persons within a 1000' radius.)

—Jack Harvard's individual campaign contributions are from individual citizens and therefore small but numerous. Don't let big money buy our city council representation.

Annual Honor

Allen Seeks 'Citizen'

Selection of a "Citizen of the Year" for Allen and honoring a graduating Allen High School senior with a $500 scholarship are two of the main items facing the Allen Jaycees.

As always, Allen citizens will play the key role in selecting the city's outstanding citizen for the year. Resumes from local citizens nominating their choice for the honor should be sent to the Jaycees at P.O. Box 25 in Allen.

The resume should include reasons why the nominee should be considered for the honor and need not be signed.

Previous winners of the award were Rev. Ramon Womack, Gene Reed, Buddy

Camper, Dale Williams and Ronald Gentry. Dr. Tom Brian of the Jaycees is in charge of this year's presentation.

Any graduating senior at Allen High is eligible for the scholarship, according to Glenn Andrew, project chairman.

Seniors should prepare written applications for the award stating, in their own words, why they feel they qualify for the scholarship and how it would be used.

Finalists will later be invited to a Jaycee meeting where the winner will be selected by secret ballot of the members. $250 will be presented when the fall semester opens and $250 will be presented at the opening of the second semester.

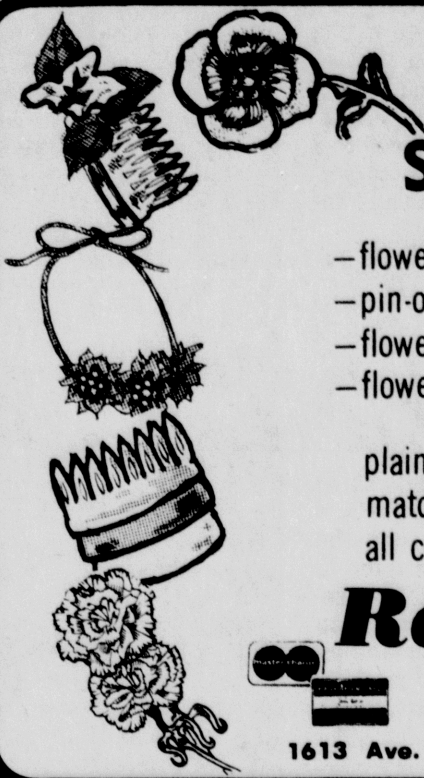

Last year's recipient was Laurana Curtis.

Planoite Plans Dallas Meeting

Wildflowers Seminar Set

A two-city series of Saturday wildflower seminars is being held in Houston and Dallas for those who want to bring the natural beauty of the outdoors into their home gardens.

"How to Know and Grow Texas Wildflowers" will feature six experts who will give practical, step-by-step directions on how to find, collect, cultivate and display native plants.

Alphabetically, the speakers will be:

Carroll Abbott of Kerrville, the state's leading professional wildflower seed and plant collector; Tom Adams, chief propagator for the Turkey Creek Nursery in Houston, and Clarence Rechenbach of Temple, author and conservationist; Geoffrey Stanford, environmental planner and director of the Greenhills Experimental Station at Cedar Hill; Benny J. Simpson, native tree expert from the TAMU Research Station at Renner, and Robert A. Vines, author, lecturer and director of the Environmental Science Center in Spring Branch.

"Everyone who comes to these workshops will learn how to create spots of beauty and joy around their homes, on vacant lots and in public parks," said Dave Fox, who is hosting the workshops.

In Dallas, the site will be the W.T. White High School at 4505 Ridgeside, and the hours will be 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on April 30. Pre-registration, at $4 per person or family, may be made by sending checks to Greenhills Wildflower Workshop, Rt. 1, Box 861, Cedar Hill, TX 75104.

The workshops are being co-sponsored by the Houston Botanical Society, the Dallas Arboretum and Botanical Society, and by the south's largest home-building firm, Fox & Jacobs.

Prize Winner

One of the most beautiful winners of the annual All-America Rose Selections Award is this grandiflora entry, Prominent, and this marks the third AARS award that roses bred by the famed German hybridizer, Reimer Kordes, have won in two years. Prominent is a brilliant, hot-orange, shaded yellow at the base of the petals. The flowers are comparatively small, measuring about three inches across, but are beautifully shaped and maintain their bright color without fading throughout their life on the bush. The blooms often last ten days when cut, making this rose outstanding as a cut flower. Very disease resistant and an excellent hot-weather plant. Prominent is a tall, vigorous grower, with abundant dark green foliage. (Non-staff photo).

Poison Flower List Presented

By United Press International

Here is a list prepared by the Ciba-Geigy chemical company of common household plants and flowers that can be dangerous — and often fatal — if ingested by children:

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

With Herbicides Handling Care Urged

Gardeners often purchase a combination of fertilizer and herbicide (weed killer) because it is so easy to use and saves extra work. But such a mixture can also cause lawn and garden problems if not used properly, says James R. Risinger, Collin County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The problem with a fertilizer-weed killer mix is that the user often applies the material without regarding the fact that a weed killer must be used much more carefully than fertilizer.

Weed killers can be especially damaging if misused since they will kill trees, shrubs and vines as well as weeds.

Since tree roots stretch out many feet, a tree can often receive herbicide damage. Thus a herbicide should not be used near a tree. Weeds around trees are best dealt with by digging them up and planting a ground cover such as English Ivy if grass will not grow in the shaded area.

Any time a herbicide is used, special attention should be given to the time and rate of application. Carefully read and follow the manufacturer's recommendations on the label, advises Risinger.

Fungus Is Killer Of Oak

By ROBERT L. HANEY
TAES Science Writer

Oak decline is such a stealthy killer that many people don't realize they have a problem until their trees are almost dead. From detection of disease to death of trees many take from five to fifteen years.

Scientists have isolated the cause, persimmon-wilt fungus, which is especially active in the tree roots and lower trunk. It kills live oak, post oak, Spanish or Texas red oak, water oak, willow oak, black jack oak, and white oak in all regions of the State.

A leading authority on forest diseases, Dr. Eugene Van Arsdel, says the oak decline fungus is distinct from the more rapidly killing oak-wilt fungus. The oak-wilt fungus generally cannot survive the Texas heat.

But the fungus causing oak decline seems to thrive on heat and is thought to be active all along the Gulf Coast.

Van Arsdel, who heads a team of scientists working on this problem for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says the disease infects many trees other than oaks.

The fungus has also been found in the persimmon, pecan, mulberry, Brazos bumelia, western soapberry, hackberry, winged elm, American elm, and sycamore.

Symptoms of oak decline, research shows, are a gradual thinning of the crown, small leaves in the spring which never grow to normal size, sometimes tan leaf discolorations (in hot weather), defoliation, twig dieback, resprouting from the larger branches and bole, and eventually the death of the tree.

Oak decline is often found on trees with wounds in the bark from lawn mowers, ax and knife hacks, and car bumper scrapes. Van Arsdel believes sap feeding insects carry the spores to such wounds.

Therefore, wounds are to be avoided. Research shows pruning must be done from October to February when sap-feeding beetles are less likely to be active.

Dissection of older infected trees has shown infections associated with old ambrosia beetle chambers. These beetles start on dying limbs or when trees are in poor condition from some injury.

Because many fungus-carrying insects attack dying wood, Van Arsdel prunes all dead limbs from trees, taking care to cut them flush at the base so no dying stubs remain to attract the wood boring beetles. Such pruning is done in fall and winter and wounds painted with asphalt tree paint or shellac.

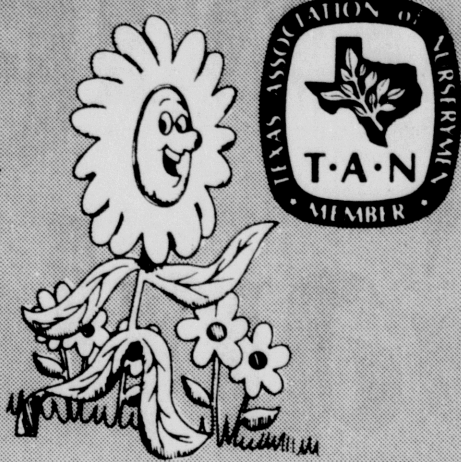

The intent of present and proposed research is to discover the best cultural and chemical means of treating diseased trees and prevent the infection of trees in the future. A number of experimental chemicals appear promising but none of them are at present cleared by EPA for general use.

Since the fungus can be spread by the intermingling and natural grafting of roots of like varieties of trees, Van Arsdel believes in mixing unlike varieties. The disease is thought to be Far Eastern in origin, so it should be helpful to mix in trees thought to be resistant such as holly oak, Japanese ligustrum and Chinese holly.

Limited, continued support for this important research has been offered by Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson. Van Arsdel hopes that her support will inspire others to provide other private support and perhaps lead the way to better public support.

Tree Longevity Is Factor

Careful Selection Important For Landscape

Longevity should be more carefully considered when trees are selected and planted. Since they're the most permanent part of the landscape, it pays to invest in trees that will last.

Outlined below are our most popular shade trees with comments as to their expected life spans. Figures are obviously estimates and may fluctuate greatly depending on care and growing conditions.

Long-Lived Trees
Pecan: Generally durable once established and growing. No lethal insects or diseases.

Sweet Gum: Needs deep soil for vigorous growth. Shallow caliche bedrock shortens life.

Magnolia: Slow growing, needs deep soil and dependable soil moisture. Virtually no insects, diseases.

Oaks: Live and red oaks should live here for centuries. No common insects or diseases of major consequence.

Cedar Elm: Native and very durable. No insects or diseases of major effect.

Bald Cypress: Native to riverbanks, also adapted upland. Survives centuries once established.

Hollies and Crape Myrtles: Excellent small trees growing to 10 to 20 feet with great age.

Chinese Pistachio:

Durable newcomer to North Texas landscapes. Should last many decades, as evidenced by one old North Dallas planting.

Medium-Lived Trees (25-30 years)

Flowering Crabapple: May be affected at early age by cotton root rot, an uncontrollable soil-borne disease. Lasts well if that disease is not present.

Chinese Tallow: A comparative new-comer and one of the better "fast growing" trees. Gradually thins out with age, though we know of none that's been planted in Dallas for as long as 50 years.

Sycamore: Once considered a long liver, sycamores now too often fall prey to the damaging but controllable (control is expensive) anthracnose disease.

Hackberry: Native, so adapted to local soils. Subject to many insects and diseases. Gradually weakens with age.

Redbud: Excellent tree for color, shade. Thins out with age, though it's still worth the replanting.

Silver Maple: Quick growing shade tree, subject to cotton root rot.

Cottonwood: Many very old specimens exist in our town, but many also die young from borers and cotton root rot.

Short-Lived Trees (under 25 years)

Slash Pine: Not adapted to alkaline clays. Succumbs to iron deficiency.

Fruitless Mulberry: Good for quick shade, but generally dies out quite young. Cotton root rot, borers.

Arizona Ash: Subject to borers while young. Usually more durable once large woody trunk has developed.

Mimosa: Subject to cotton root rot, mimosa wilt and mimosa webworm.

Ask Doc Gar'ner

by Niel Sperry

Dear Doc: We've heard of a systemic insect treatment adding lye to the soil around the drip line of trees. Will this work for pecans? Will they be edible?

Really, lye's not too great an idea. It does little systemically to remedy bugs, plus it's so highly alkaline, just wrong for most of north central Texas' soils. Contact your local county Extension office for the most up-to-date spray schedules for pecans and fruit crops.

Dear Doc: Enclosed is part of the label from a "weed and feed" fertilizer we put on our yard last year. Could it be the reason for the leaf problems our magnolia is having? They're all cupped and twisted.

Yes, indeed. The weed killer in that product is atrazine. It's a fairly dependable pre-emergent weed killer but it can really cause problems to our landscape plants. Water liberally for best recovery.

Dear Doc: I've planted a wisteria, weeping willow and red bud in the last three years, but they just won't grow. I've used fertilizers, mulches, and water, all with no results. What can I do? They're all in dandy soil.

Unfortunately there are probably 500 things that could cause plants not to grow. Let's list a few of the most common: plants bought bare root (no soil around roots), no pruning done after planting to compensate for root loss, insufficient water, and too much fertilizer. You can, however, pretty well rule out insects and diseases, since you're having problems with several unrelated species. Hopefully, the answer to your plants' problems will be in the list.

Dear Doc: We have a pecan tree that's not quite ten years old. For some strange reason it has never borne fruit on the top limbs. What could be the reason? Also, the bark is peeling off.

It's hard to identify the problem for sure, but there's a good chance the bark damage might have caused a slow-down of growth in the top limbs, particularly if the leaf growth is affected as well. But bark peeling off pecan trees is anything but unusual. In fact, it's just about an everyday occurrence for some large, healthy trees. Treat the wound with the black pruning paint, water and fertilize the tree carefully this spring, and you'll probably start seeing results.

Nail polish on denim skirt

DEAR POLLY — I would like to know how to remove red fingernail polish that was spilled on a skirt made of denim. Thank you. — K.L.G.

DEAR K.L.G. — One laundry expert suggests placing the stain face down on clean paper towels. Sponge back of stain with nail polish remover being sure to change towels when they become stained. Repeat until stains disappear and then launder. Do not use this for acetate or Arnel fabrics, which should be sent to the dry cleaner. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Mrs. R.S. who did not approve of LADIES coming home and changing their clothes. There are two sides to that. If you can come home and sit and watch TV it is okay. But most of us in our neighborhood work and then come home to work in the garden, mow the lawn, paint and even wash cars. High heels and such would not be very practical. — MRS. M.A.

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Margaret who has trouble with her brooms. I have been married 46 years and have three brooms going (one in the kitchen, one in the basement and one in the garage) and have never had any trouble with the straws breaking.

After soaking and drying the broom I cut off the toe and ankle to an old nylon stocking. I slip on the stocking, narrow side first, until it is just BELOW the broom stitching and the wider part until just below the shoulder of the broom. — BELLE.

DEAR POLLY — Slip the end of your ironing board into a plastic or paper bag when storing and the end does not get dirty. — E.P.

Slip the end of your ironing board into a plastic or paper bag when storing and the end does not get dirty. — E.P.

DEAR POLLY — I bought a small and inexpensive fish bowl to use when mixing small dabs of whipped cream, mayonnaise, etc. with my hand egg beater. The beater fits nicely into the opening and the contents do not splash out as I beat.

A discarded suitcase makes a great portable sewing center. The side pockets hold pattern, scissors, tape measure, thread, etc. and when work is finished for the day everything can be folded and put away in the case to be stored in a small place. — MRS. R.L.

DEAR POLLY — If you are keeping your house thermometer set at 65 degrees but find this a bit too cold turn a hot water bottle or an electric heating pad under your skirt while you read or watch TV. You will be surprised how this heat on your torso will heat you up. Best of all, the heating pad uses only 55 watts which is far less energy than a space heater would require. — JANET.

DEAR POLLY — Those who make their own noodles will find the best and fastest way to cut them is to use a pizza cutter. — BEVERLY.

ASTRO-GRAPH Bernice Bede Osol

For Saturday, April 16, 1977

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You may be more charming with casual acquaintances than with close pals. Strive to treat all equally to avoid miffing friends.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Rather than requesting others to do things for you today, try to extend a helping hand to them. You'll all be happier.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you're at a social function today, don't wear out your welcome. Have sense enough to leave before others tire of you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In important career matters today it's mandatory to get the jump on the opposition. As long as you stay ahead, you'll attain your ends.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You have sound ideas today, but they could be challenged. Have the facts ready in case they are.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be certain you're carrying your share of the load in any joint venture aimed at material gain today. If not, you could blow the deal.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Pace yourself today. You're in good spirits so long as you're not tired. If you become fatigued, you might be difficult to get along with.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Unless there's something urgent, work on projects YOU want to do. Shelve unnecessary chores until another day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Surround yourself with friends you know well today. You'll feel much more comfortable with them than you will with strangers.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) There's a matter of importance you may have to handle today. Make sure it's concluded before you leave it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're gregarious today when you're airing your views with kindred spirits. Conversely, you'll be very irritable if someone challenges you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be generous today to those who are truly deserving. But you must be able to reject people not worthy of your kindness.

(Are you an Aries? Bernice Osol has written a special Astro-Graph Letter for you. For your copy send 50 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to ask for Aries Volume 6.)

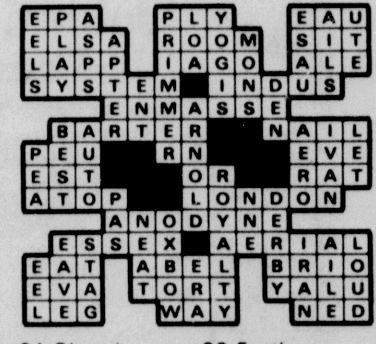

Don't hesitate this year to take on more management responsibilities of projects you're involved in. With you at the helm, success is assured.

Judge Not,
 That Ye Be Not Judged.

We all know good people—people who are the pillars of the community, those who support their church, are responsible citizens, and good parents. These people may have only one fault—the sin of self-righteousness.

Christ had this to say about self-righteousness, "Judge not, that ye be not judged." Always our relationship with God is likened to our relationship with other people. If we receive God's grace, we must be willing to forgive our fellowman's failures. If we do not want to be judged harshly by God, then we must respond in kind to other men. The next time you are tempted to be self-righteous—remember these words, "Judge not, that ye be not judged."

For Fathers

Workshop Slated

Further information on the course may be obtained by contacting the UT-Dallas Center for Continuing Education at 690-2204.

A Message

From

Cecil Grattafiori, Jr.

Tomorrow the decision will be made by the citizens of Plano as to whom will represent them on the City Council, Place 5, for the next two years.

I would like to say to those who are supporting me "thank you very much". I have personally enjoyed the campaign. I have had the pleasure of meeting one of the finest group of people that one can imagine. The time that many of you have devoted to this election, and the over people who have contributed amounts from one dollar up to $200.00 has left me with an indelible mark of gratitude and a much deeper appreciation for my fellow man.

To those who are undecided, I would like to reiterate my qualifications and emphasize my desire to serve the citizens of Plano.

I am the Comptroller of Chrysler Boat Corporation of Plano. My financial background spans a period of over 20 years. I am concerned about taxes, zoning problems, indebtedness, overcrowded thoroughfares, and many other problems that face our fine city. I will strive to represent all the people of Plano and make decisions, based on factual information, that will be beneficial to the entire city. There are no foreseeable issues facing the city which would confront me with a situation of conflict of interest.

To those of you who favor my opponent, I must say that you have been most courteous throughout this campaign; this is the American way and I hope it will continue forever. I would emphasize to many of you that directing a city government involves more than one emotional issue; I only ask that you consider all the qualifications.

In 24 hours, the City Council election for Plano in 1977 will be history. Please do not pass up the opportunity to be a part of this event. Let's all get together and dispell the cries of those who say the public is apathetic towards its government. This can easily be done by your taking 15 minutes of your time tomorrow to vote. You will make the right decision.

Thank you,
Cecil Grattafiori, Jr.

IT PAYS TO COMPARE WHEN YOU CHOOSE REAL ESTATE AS YOUR FUTURE CAREER ...

Walk into Shirley Becker, REALTORS, offices—either the Citizens Bank, Richardson, or the First Federal Building in Plano—see if you aren't impressed with the facilities our people work in . . .

Examine the Homes For Living marketing network program—ask our associates how well it produces incoming and outgoing referrals . . .

Discuss with any of the newer associates how well Herb Becker's 120 hours of practical training has helped them—ask if it is really a nitty-gritty down-to-earth program to learn well . . .

Discuss with Shirley Becker why she constantly remains available to all of her people—she recalls how little help she was given 22 years ago when she started—she's vowed it will never be that way in her company—she's available night and day to her people. . .

If you're already licensed and thinking of a change, come by and talk to Shirley and see if she doesn't have a happy place to work . . .

If you want to be licensed, come by and talk to Shirley and to those who have started and remain with us—there must be a reason.

Another 120 hours of training begins later this month—costs you nothing at all—we want you to be the best associate possible, so we selfishly train you according to our high standards.

Call Shirley Becker at the office, 231-9473, or evenings at home, 231-1174. Your discussions with us will be confidential if you wish. You could become a superstar with us in our Richardson or Plano offices. Frankly, it depends a great deal on you.

More than two dozen people have joined us in the past twelve months!

A's Out In Front, Beat Angels 8-7

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Would you believe the team that ranks No. 1, 10 days into the 1977 season, is the Oakland A's?

"You never can tell about this game," said Coach Red Schoendienst, after the A's defeated the California Angels, 8-7, Thursday. "I'll say this, though, the kids on this club have shown a few people they know how to play and the veterans have helped a lot."

The A's pulled out Thursday's game when Larry Lintz scored from second base with two out in the ninth inning after shortstop Bobby Grich bobbled a relay throw from the outfield.

Lintz opened the ninth with a walk and went to second on a sacrifice. Mitchell Page was walked intentionally and Don Kirkwood retired Dick Allen on a fly. Bruce Bochte made the catch and Lintz took third on the putout and scored when Grich bobbled the relay.

Doug Bair received credit for the victory. Frank Tanana was tagged for 11 hits in 6 1-3 innings but escaped the loss.

The Milwaukee Brewers defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 5-0, the Seattle Mariners beat the Minnesota Twins, 4-3, and the Toronto Blue Jays topped the Detroit Tigers, 5-3, in other AL games. Cleveland at Texas was rained out.

In the National League, it was San Francisco 8 San Diego 4 and St. Louis 4 New York 1.

Brewers 5, Orioles 0:

Jim Slaton pitched a threehitter in his first appearance of the season for the Brewers, who dealt Rudy May his second straight loss. Von Joshua hit a key single in the fifth inning and two more Milwaukee runs scored on a throwing error by catcher Rick Dempsey in the sixth.

Mariners 4, Twins 3:

Pinch-hitter Tommy Smith singled in the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning and Rupper Jones followed with a two-run homer giving the Mariners their victory over the Twins. Lyman Bostock drove in three runs for the Twins. Gary Wheelock won his second game of the year for Seattle with relief help from John Montague in the ninth.

Jays 5, Tigers 3:

Pinch-hitter Otto Velez hit a three-run homer off reliever John Hiller with one out in the bottom of the eighth lifting the Jays to their fifth victory in seven games. Velez' homer followed walks issued by Hiller to Doug Ault and Ron Fairly. Jerry Garvin pitched a sixhitter to raise his record to 2-0 for Toronto.

Giants 8, Padres 4:

Bill Madlock and Willie McCovey each homered and drove in three runs as the Giants downed the Padres behind the seven-hit, 11-strikeout pitching of Jim Barr. Jerry Turner and Merv Rettenmund homered for the Padres.
